

INI-ICMS Correspondents Day Report Wednesday 29 June 2022

The 2022 meeting of the INI-ICMS Correspondents Network took place between 09:30 and 14:10 on Wednesday 29 June at INI's main building in Cambridge.

Timed to follow directly on from INI's 30th anniversary celebrations, which took place on Tuesday 28 June, this edition of Correspondents Day activities included:

- Updates on INI and ICMS activities by senior staff from both centres (Christie Marr, Deputy Director, INI; Minhyong Kim, Director, ICMS),
- A discussion session on the theme of "Sustainable optimisation of mathematical research interactions",
- A networking lunch,
- and a Luminary Talk by climate scientist and mathematician, Emily Shuckburgh OBE, Director of Cambridge Zero.

> Some images from the day can be found here: <https://mailchi.mp/ebf1c6175276/ini-news-bulletin-april-9262457>

> Learn more about INI's 30th anniversary celebrations here: <https://www.newton.ac.uk/outreach/archive/ini-30th-anniversary/>